Senate Scores Professors For Flaying 'Bob'

La Follette War Stand Is Cause Of Heated Debate By Badger Solons

CALL EDUCATORS UNWORTHY

Huber Resolution Wins—Now On Way To Assembly

Madison — The Wisconsin senate voted 17 to 12 Wednesday to condemn as "unworthy of men employed in Wisconsin's greatest educational institution," the action of 450 university of Wisconsin professors who signed a round robin during the war attacking the attitude of Senator Robert M. La Follette. A move made by Senator Henry Roethe, to put over action on the proposal for two weeks, was defeated 15 to 10.

Two hours of debate and controversy over the attitude of Senator La Follette during America's participation in the World War, preceded the vote. Senator Henry Roethe, the senior Wisconsin senator's former secretary and author of the resolution, defended the La Follette stand on the war while Senator George B. Skogmo, a former La Follette supporter, opposed the resolution.

CONTROVERSY HEATED

At times the senate controversy became heated as questions affecting the loyalty of Senator La Follette were brought out in talks. Following a long prepared speech by Senator Huber in which he pictured the Wisconsin senator in Washington as one who had unrighteously suffered calumny for taking the stand of the common people during the war, Senator Skogmo addressed the upper house, declaring that it was not for the legislature to pass judgments on the acts of the university professors who exercised their judgment in condemning Senator La Follette's record during the war. He charged that the Huber resolution being acted on was itself a libel and slander on the professors.

Then came reference to the La Follette war opinion. Senator Skogmo told of reports made by American soldiers in France who claimed to have seen copies of La Follette speeches circulated among German soldiers to bolster their morale, and asserted that if these reports were true the senator "had given aid and comfort to the enemy," as the university round robin said.

After wrangling back and forth Senator Roethe moved that the resolution be put over two weeks to permit him to write Senator La Follette to determine whether he wished the resolution passed. Senator Huber objected and on a roll call the move was defeated 18 to 12.

WINS 17 TO 12

Then on a roll call the substitute amendment to the original bill on the resolution of La Follette was adopted 17 to 12 and the resolution adopted as amended with a roll call. On adoption of the substitute amendment the vote stood:

For adoption—Barber, Bilgrien, Chisham, Carey, Heck, Hirsch, Huber, Johnson, Kemp, Polakowski, Quick, Ridgway, Schumann, Severson, Staudenmayer, Teasdale and Titus.

Against adoption—Beney, Burke, Clark, Czerwinski, Kuckuk, Lange, Morris, Roethe, Skogmo, Smith, Wenden and White.

Senator Huber first read into the record a letter from Senator La Follette urging him to withdraw his original resolution calling for a bonfire to destroy the university documents now on file with the historical library.

"I deeply appreciate the spirit which prompted you to introduce this resolution and the desire on your part to rectify in so far as possible what seemed to you to be an unfair and libelous attack upon me," Senator La Follette said. "Time is the great sifter and winnower of truth. The formal destruction of that document cannot change the facts of its existence."

"I stated many times from the public platform in Wisconsin during the recent campaign that I would not exchange my record on the war with any man in the United States senate. History alone can judge impartially. So far as I am personally concerned I am well content that this document shall remain as a physical evidence of the hysteria attendant upon the war."

"It seems to me," he continued, "that our energies should be devoted toward bringing our institutions back to the principles upon which they were founded, and which are the true source of our greatness. This applies with special significance to the university, and we can perform no greater service to our institutions than to see to it that the great university of Wisconsin ever continues that winnowing and sifting by which alone the truth can be found in a reality and not a fiction."

JOHN J. RYAN IS NAMED COACH OF STATE UNIVERSITY

Former Marquette And Dartmouth Man Succeeds John Richards

By Associated Press
Madison—John J. Ryan, Dartmouth, was unanimously chosen athletic coach for the University of Wisconsin Wednesday morning by the board of regents.

At his new position, Ryan will be the first full time football coach employed by the University of Wisconsin. He will hold the rank of assistant professor and receive a salary of $6,000 a year, according to the contract approved by the regents.

ACTIVE 20 YEARS

The new coach has been active in football as player, scout, official, and coach for 20 years. In 1903, '04, '05, he played left halfback on the Waterville, Conn., high school team. In 1906 he was quarterback on the New Hampshire state college team and in 1908 and 1909 was quarterback, right halfback, and end on the Dartmouth college eleven, being captain in his senior year.

From 1911 to 1913, Ryan was coach of all athletics at the St. Thomas college, St. Paul, and went through three years without losing a game. In 1914, '15 he was scout and official in the West for conference and in 1916 went to Marquette university.

DOES WELL AT M. U.

During 1917, his Marquette team did not lose a game. His team lost to Wisconsin the next season. It is reported that during his coaching career none of his teams has ever lost by more than 14 points. Last year Ryan was recalled to his alma mater as assistant coach in charge of the ends and assisting with the backfield. He will be released to come to Wisconsin in April.

MARINETTE HUNGER STRIKER BALKS AID

By Associated Press
Marinette—John Birta, Stephenson farmer, who has been on a hunger strike at the Marinette-co jail here for the past ten days, will be given a sanity hearing if he does not eat in a few days, according to Sheriff Oscar Dahl. All effort to feed the prisoner have been of no avail since Feb. 25, last, when he was jailed because of his queer conduct which Sheriff Dahl attributed to moonshine.

Sheriff Dahl raided Birta's farm home and arrested Mrs. Birta, the prisoner's wife and Mrs. Ada Polony on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. They will be given a hearing soon.

When the first signs of weakness were visible in the man's condition physicians were summoned, but all efforts to give medical aid were likewise spurned by Birta. Tuesday the prisoner was taken before county Judge A. E. Davis, but nothing was accomplished, the prisoner refusing to commit himself.

URGE MEDAL FOR PHONE GIRL WHO SAVED WOMAN

Fond du Lac—In recognition of her initiative and prompt action sending aid to Mrs. Roy A. Tindall, 29 North Sibley street, when the latter was seized by a choking spell and gasped an inarticulate appeal for aid over the telephone, application for the Vail medal for meritorious service has been made for Miss Mary A. High, operator at the local exchange.

Miss High, who graduated from high school last year, was on duty Jan. 5, when a call was flashed from Tindall residence. Sensing an emergency from sounds of distress that came over the wire, the operator traced the call back to its source and then called neighbors of the Tindalls.

HARDING FACES REAL TEST IN NEXT 2 YEARS

Opponents In Congress Will Be Stronger When Sessions Are Renewed

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923, by the Post Pub. Co., Ormond, Fla.—President Harding had his first day of retrospective thought on the trip down here, the first twenty hours away from official routine since last summer. Half of Mr. Harding's first term is a matter of history but inseparably associated with those two years is the conclusion that the second half of the administration will really decide whether President Harding will have an opportunity of reelection.

The president has no illusions about the status of his administration in the eyes of the public. His many years in politics have taught him self appraisal. He knows even better than the critics who have just finished a microscopic analysis of all the water that has gone over the dam since inauguration day what impression each act of his administration has made. His newspaper experience with its perennial diagnosis of public ills has enabled him to look somewhat impersonally at the whole political situation as it concerns him.

SWALLOWED BITTER PILL

The effect of this bittersweet pill was a bitter pill to swallow. Not because of the merits of the proposal itself but because it proved that a Republican president with a big majority in both houses could not secure the passage of a bill sponsored by an administration measure. If America had a parliamentary form of government and Mr. Harding were prime minister, he would be joining Mr. Lloyd George in that "wilderness" where premiers go when they cannot get a vote of confidence.

Mr. Harding feels, however, that his party had the votes but that the Democrats, by virtue of the senate rules permitting unlimited debate, killed the shipping bill.

This will be his defense. It will serve to show attacks on the administration that the ship subsidy bill was a bitter pill to swallow. Not because of the merits of the proposal itself but because it proved that a Republican president with a big majority in both houses could not secure the passage of a bill sponsored by an administration measure. If America had a parliamentary form of government and Mr. Harding were prime minister, he would be joining Mr. Lloyd George in that "wilderness" where premiers go when they cannot get a vote of confidence.

Mr. Harding feels, however, that his party had the votes but that the Democrats, by virtue of the senate rules permitting unlimited debate, killed the shipping bill.

SEEK STRONG LEADERS

Congress has gone from Washington for nine months but its wake is left a trail of experiences which furnish the key to the future. Attempts at leadership have not been lacking. What, for instance, was the purpose of naming Senators Lenroot of Wisconsin and Wadsworth of New York to be floor leaders if not to substitute the vigor of youth for the veteran membership of steering committee, which found itself failing to function at critical moments.

THING OF PAST

Today there are almost as many conceptions of what the Republican party should stand for as there are individuals in it. Party solidarity means relatively little to men like Senator Brookhart of Iowa, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, Senator Norris of Nebraska, Senator Ladd of North Dakota and others who have raised the banner of Republicanism in their own primaries.

The nub of the whole matter is that a group of men who were elected as Republicans have failed to stand with their fellow Republicans in parliamentary tactics and have formed make shift coalitions with the Democrats. Mr. Harding has not yet found a way to beat that combination of circumstances. And congress, therefore, has not done the things he asked it to do. In the next nine months the executive will have a chance to make a record unobscured by congress. Florida is a place for rest and recreation but there will be plenty of time for reflections and soliloquy and many a thought applied to the big task of turning the delicate curve of popularity upward again.

Cheston Goldberg, who late Tuesday was abducted by four unmasked men at his home here walked into police headquarters Wednesday and told authorities that he regained consciousness while lying in a pool of mud about 13 miles from the city, after having been beaten and robbed. Girl With 114 Fever Tired Of Eating Glass

By Associated Press
Escanaba, Mich.—At the end of the seventeenth day of a baffling illness which has run her fever up to 114 degrees and more, Miss Evelyn Lyons, 30, Escanaba, sat up Wednesday morning in her chair, still protesting against her confinement and still maintaining the astounding thermometer reading.

"I think I have the whole world best on temperature," the girl told newspapermen, who came to see the odd case. "But I am getting more or less tired of having thermometers to 'eat' all the time. I am hungry and want something to eat."

According to Dr. Harry Defnet, the attending physician, the girl spent a fairly restful night, although her strenuous protestations against confinement weakened her. Two United States tested thermometers from the local weather bureau, which run up to 120 degrees will be used Wednesday by the physicians here to try to determine the exact temperature reading of the girl.

After regaining his feet Mozart appeared groggy. However, the dazed battler came back at Dory only to be felled again, his head striking the canvas with a thud. He never regained consciousness.

Wets Win In First Assembly Contest

United States Congress Is Asked By Wisconsin Lawmakers To Define What Is Intoxicating Liquor

By Associated Press
Madison—The first test vote on the wet and dry issue before the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature resulted in a victory for the wets Wednesday when the assembly voted 57 to 34, to adopt a resolution memorializing congress, to define intoxicating beverages.

The resolution introduced by Assemblyman F. J. Peterson, Milwaukee, declared the Volstead act arbitrarily and without basis of fact, defines intoxicating liquor as containing more than one half of one per cent alcohol and asks congress to amend the Volstead act to permit the sale of beverages in excess of one half of one per cent to a maximum point of alcoholic content compatible with the meaning and intent of the Eighteenth amendment.

Assemblyman Alexander E. Matheson, Janesville, floor leader, moved the indefinite postponement of the resolution.

Several assemblymen assailed the Anti Saloon league in the state and its officers and were warned by Speaker Dahl against indulging in personalities.

The vote on the indefinite postponement was 56 to 35 against and on the adoption of the resolution 57 to 34 in favor of it. The roll call:

CUNO WARNS GERMANY WILL REMAIN FIRM

Will Not Attempt Peace Negotiations As Long As French Are In Ruhr

BULLETIN
Berlin—A coup d'etat, planned to occur about the middle of the present month, has been nipped in the bud by the arrest of 15 persons at Munich, according to the authorities.

By Associated Press
Berlin—Chancellor Cuno's declaration that Germany will hold out in the Ruhr and his intimation that no overtures will be made "so long as the occupation renders it impossible for us to estimate our own capacity," rang through the nation Wednesday as the people appraised their spokesmen's address to the Reichstag. As setting that France had obtained nothing in all the weeks of occupation, Herr Cuno scoffed at talk of negotiation so long as the situation remained as it is.

"We will agree to no settlement severing illegally occupied territory from Germany," he said, "or any agreement which fails to restore to freedom Germans wrongfully punished. I do not appeal even now to foreign countries. I merely note that after seven weeks of fighting for our rights and for the peace of the world, we still stand alone."

Recounting in detail the coercive steps taken in the Ruhr by the Allies, the chancellor declared that "however long the occupation may continue the curse of barrenness will pursue the French."

"We will not cease our policy of passive resistance until the goal is attained," he said.

The chancellor recalled that he had assumed office with the intention of fixing Germany's reparations obligations at a tolerable figure. "The proposals drafted, he said, were not even examined in Paris and the reason was that the occupation of the Ruhr was already decided upon. There was no agreement, he asserted, because France did not desire one."

MICHIGAN SEEKING TO CHANGE PRIMARY LAW

Lansing, Mich.—A bill to amend the Michigan primary law and assure a successful candidate in the state's presidential primary of a loyal delegation at the National convention was before the legislature Wednesday. The measure offered by Senator O. G. Johnson, Fostoria, is designed to hold the state's convention delegation to the primary choice until that candidate releases it.

The candidate himself would name the four delegates at large and the two from each congressional district, together with a list of alternates. The amendment its author declares, would prevent a delegation from casting one vote for the primary winner, then supporting another candidate as was the case in the last Republican convention where Senator Hiram Johnson, California, who carried the primary was deserted after the first ballot.

New York—Rear Admiral William A. Moffet, in an address broadcast by radio, said hostile forces could utilize the Bermudas as an ideal base for air bombing expeditions on eastern American seaports.

Nelson, Pettler, Price, Royce, Saugen, Shearer, Slack, A. E. Smith, Summerhill, Thiffey, Vincent, Whelan, Speaker Dahl.

Absent or not voting — Dieringer, Eischele, J. C. Hanson, Hefty, Mosley, George Nelson, Salter, F. C. Smith, Spoor.

MILWAUKEE MAYOR FIRES AT BLAINE IN HIGH TAX WAR

Hoan Tells Governor He Will Fight Dahl Bill In Court If Passed

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Mayor Daniel W. Hoan of Milwaukee is on the warpath over proposed tax legislation in the Wisconsin legislature.

In what is considered the most vigorously worded communication he has written during his seven years as mayor, he "laid down the law" Wednesday to the governor and the legislature regarding the Dahl tax bill and other proposed tax legislation.

The mayor in his open letter peremptorily demands that 70 per cent of future tax revenue be returned to the cities, towns and villages in which it is collected, questions the constitutionality of the proposed tax legislation, and plainly implies a threat to take the matter to the courts for adjudication unless the lawmakers call a halt.

The constitution and a supreme court decision are quoted by the mayor to sustain his contention that state expenses must be defrayed through levy of a direct state tax and that such taxes must be uniform for the various districts. He contends that both of these provisions are flagrantly violated by taxation measures now before the legislature.

FIND BODIES OF MISSING OFFICERS

New Orleans—The bodies of Wesley Crane and Wiley Pierce, deputy sheriffs, missing since last Friday when they left Franklinton to make a raid on a moonshine still, in the swamps between that place and Bogalusa, have been located according to a telephone message from Franklinton to the Times-Herald shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

The message also stated that one of the several men held in jail at Franklinton as suspects in connection with the disappearance of the officers is alleged to have made a confession to Sheriff J. E. Bateman of Washington parish.

The sheriff accompanied by the man said to have confessed, and others, left Franklinton Wednesday morning for the scene where the bodies are reported to have been found.

Fort Atkinson—A telegram addressed to their mother, dead 16 years, brought the news to Mrs. Edith Brewer, this city and Miss Mary Webb, Beloit school teacher, of the death of their brother William, whom they had not heard from since 1898 when he went to the Klondike in a gold rush and had later heard he too was dead. Brewer died at San Antonio, Tex., where he served on the police for 12 years and became a contractor, dying Jan. 31. A nationwide search was conducted by the San Antonio Masons for his relatives, and the body was brought here Tuesday for burial by Past Master C. W. Hale, San Antonio.

Appropriation Of $75,000 Is Authorized By Council To Join Wolf And Embarrass Rivers At Point Above City

New London's annual floods, which have inundated part of the business section at times and caused losses of thousands of dollars probably will be ended for all times as the result of an appropriation of $75,000 by the New London common council at its meeting Tuesday evening for construction of a canal to join the Wolf and Embarrass rivers.

This move also will make available thousands of acres of land, according to officials of Hamilton Canning company, New London, for the raising of cabbage on ground that was useless previously because of the spring floods.

The Wolf and Embarrass rivers join at the city of New London just above Lattin sawmill. The Embarrass river swells to an abnormal height each year during the spring thaw and floods a portion of New London Second and Fifth wards. Last year the water was exceptionally high, with the result that a large part of the business section was under several feet of water, causing destruction of pavements, sidewalks, merchandise and other property.

WILL DRAIN CANAL

The canal will be built some distance above the city of New London so that when the Embarrass river swells the water will pass through this big ditch into the Wolf, where the channel is believed to be ample to carry it safely through the city.

Details of the project have not been worked out by the city officials, but it is understood the work cannot be accomplished this year. The high water will be done during the summer so as to be ready for next year.

Salaries of the street superintendent, light and water department superintendent, city physician and assistant, city clerk were raised by the council at the same meeting. The clerk was ordered to obtain bids for a one to three ton truck for use of the fire department to take place of one now rented each year.

THREE SEEKING SCHOOL OFFICE

No further nominations papers for the office of county superintendent of schools have been applied for at the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk. The only three candidates that are definitely known to be in the running are Miss Florence S. Jenkins, incumbent superintendent, former Superintendent A. G. Mouton, and Miss Julia Wittlin, teacher at Sheboygan.

No papers have as yet been filed. The candidates have until March 14 in order to do so. No primaries are held for this office. The election will take place on April 3. But only the precincts other than Appleton, Kaukauna and the Third ward of New London will have the privilege of voting for this office.

No definite date was set for the hearing.

HIRSCH BILL IS POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

Reduction Of Appropriations Will Be Next Step By Solons

Madison—Overwhelming defeat met the Hirsch bill, providing for the abolition of the Wisconsin National guard, when it reached the floor of the senate Wednesday. By a vote of 26 to 4, the upper house determined to indefinitely postpone the measure.

Three Socialist members and Senator John Cushman, Denmark, Republican, voted against indefinite postponement. A like fate will meet the Polakowski bill, passed by the assembly when that measure comes to a vote at a meeting of the senate Wednesday night.

WITHDRAWS DIVORCE BILL

Senator J. J. Severson, who planned a subamendment to the Polakowski bill, divorcing the Wisconsin guard from the national government, announced Wednesday that constitutional difficulties would make this proposed separation impossible. As a result attention of the Republican members of the senate will be directed toward bringing a reduction in the appropriation so far as possible.

The national guard issue came before the senate floor in the subamendment offered by Senator J. J. Hirsch, Socialist, to his bill. This would have cut off the continuing appropriation for the state's military organization and would have resulted in practical abolition. The senate voted it down, 24 to 5.

This brought the original bill before the upper house. Senator Timothy Burke, Green Bay, opposed the bill, claiming that it was an illegal attempt to violate the federal national defense act and the constitution of the United States.

CALLS ACT UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Senator Quick, Socialist, Milwaukee, replied that the national defense act was unconstitutional. He declared that the spirit and intent of the federal constitution had been violated by congress when it enacted a law that permitted the complete states to comply with its provision requiring maintenance of a military establishment.

The National guard as a peace time institution, and as a practical military force in time of war, was defended by Senator A. E. Garey, Edgerton, a former service man. He urged its continuance as an antidote to militaristic moves that might be made to increase the standing army of the country. The guard he declared to have proved its worth in the last war.

This stand met with the approval of the upper house which voted overwhelmingly to kill the bill and retain the guard.

The roll stood:

For indefinite postponement—Barber, Beney, Bilgrien, Burke, Clark, Czerwinski, Garey, Gradelman, Heck, Huber, Johnson, Kemp, Kuckuk, Lange, Morris, Ridgway, Roethe, Schumann, Severson, Skogmo, Smith, Staudenmayer, Teasdale, Titus, Wenden and White.

Against indefinite postponement—Cushman, Hirsch, Polakowski and Quick.

London—John Walker Hills, financial secretary-treasurer, a member of the Bonar Law government, was defeated for a seat in parliament in a by-election.

Washington—Secretary Hoover called a conference for March 20 to consider what administrative action may be taken to extend the field of wireless broadcasting and reduce interference.

Berlin—Chancellor Cuno's speech before the Reichstag took the form of a lengthy protest against French and Belgian occupation of the Ruhr and was devoid of new or significant utterances in regard to the occupation.

DR. HOLMES RAPS KU KLUX KLAN IN SUNDAY'S SERMON

Klan Danger Is Greater Than Evils It Fights, Pastor Says

Declaring that the dangers from the Ku Klux Klan are greater than the evils it proposes to avert, Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor of First Methodist church, condemned the Klan for its undemocratic and un-American actions in a stirring sermon in his church Sunday evening. It was the first of a series of sermons on modern problems. He declared that the Klan has developed through an appeal of romantic idealism fanned by the motion picture, "The Birth of a Nation," which was shown a few years ago.

"I have no interest in the Ku Klux Klan other than its relation to the system of brotherhood which Christ taught and the freedom for which the church must always stand," Dr. Holmes said. "Any institution that is opposed to the fundamental principles of our Americanism and the spirit of our democracy, must be unqualifiedly condemned. Granted that the objective of the Ku Klux Klan may be considered reasonable in part at least, thinking people must condemn the methods pursued by the Klan in certain sections of the country. To my mind, the dangers from the Klan itself are greater than the evils it proposes to avert. I do not approve of the secrecy of any organization that assumes powers such as the Klan does. Persecuting those who are great and crying evil in our country which demanded the show of determination on the part of a group of clean-minded and upright citizens; persecuting the law courts were indifferent or inefficient in regard to the execution of law, and, persecuting some hundreds of these innocent citizens should attempt to suppress such broken wickedness—why, in the name of common sense, should they hide their faces behind sheets and mask their faces from the public gaze and become 'Knights of the Night' so called?"

COURAGE TO FACE LIGHT

"It has always been the policy of true Americans to have the courage to stand on their two feet in the clear light of public gaze and speak out, giving a publicity that developed social action."

"And then—if it is true that the organization purposes to deny to certain groups human rights and to foment against the Negro, the Catholic, the Jew and the foreigner; it is an institution based on race prejudice and race supremacy, assuming a minority dictatorship that is surely undemocratic and un-American."

"Such means might appeal to some of our good people as a means of arousing sentiment against certain crying evils, but it seems to me that such an organization is in danger of embroiling itself at any time in a situation that may be almost irreparable. Misdirected zeal is always dangerous."

FRENZIES SHORT LIVED

"I do not propose to go into the matter of the numerous other purported lynchings and torments that have stirred the country. I believe that the calm and sober judgment of the American people will deal with these and other matters connected with the Klan in a just manner. I furthermore believe that these frenzies are short lived and sporadic."

"The Ku Klux Klan has developed largely through an appeal to what might be called a romantic idealism fanned into flame by that picture shown a number of years ago, called 'The Birth of a Nation,' which at the time of its showing was banned by several states."

A refrigerator car of meat belonging to Swift & Co. was broken into Saturday night by unidentified parties. An inspection of the contents revealed that three hams and some sausage had been removed. Meaning Of The Chamber Of Commerce

WHAT IS DOES

Question today: "What can the Appleton Chamber of Commerce do?"

It can prepare a program of community needs and unite them in carrying it out. In framing this program of work the chamber will ask the members two questions. The first question will be "What can the organization do for the individual?" this being the selfish question, and second, "What can the Chamber do for the community?" the unselfish question. Reliance will not be placed on mail replies to the two inquiries. Group meetings will be held, discussions invited and other methods adopted, all intended to secure from each member a candid and earnest expression of opinion or suggestion.

Each member will write his answer and sign his name to a sheet. A card file of the suggestions will be made. It will be possible to determine what matters are of first importance and when the time comes to name the special committee to undertake the projects, men and women who are interested in the particular matters may be selected by avoiding the inactivity and indifference of the standing committee system.

It is giving the individual member the opportunity to work on the thing he is particularly interested in that the whole membership is kept alive and interested. What then can the Chamber of Commerce do? It can and will do anything upon which the thought and energy of the community have been centered as useful to be done. What it will do depends entirely upon the membership. Each member will have an equal voice in saying what it should do, and the doing will then become a matter of uniting the community, as represented in the chamber to that end.

'Golden' Smile Has No Charm Among Stylish

Even those persons who love to be decked out in gold and jewels no longer tolerate gold teeth. They now want their teeth to look perfectly natural even though half of them may be considered a work of art by some local dentist. The person who thinks human nature is not changeable is way off the mark, for only a few years ago people had gold actually put in their mouths, whether they needed it or not. But now it's out of style.

Porcelain is rapidly taking the place of gold in places where it would be conspicuous and local dentists declare it is nearly as durable in the front teeth as the gold would be. Gold is still used in the posterior portions of the mouth.

Of course the use of gold is a matter of taste, but most persons do not wish it. Some foreigners are probably the only exception and many of them are being converted to the natural effect.

Porcelain for the teeth is not new, for dentists have been using it for about eight years. It has not been the vogue for that length of time, however, it is the newest thing in the dental line.

"To the Advantage of Consumers and the Public"

A court in Wisconsin declared recently that "the marketing policies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) work to the advantage of consumers and the public."

The LaFollette investigating committee in Washington brought out facts which proved the same thing.

The investigation of this Committee developed, we believe, just why the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been uniformly successful, and why it has within the comparatively few years of its existence contributed so materially to our national prosperity—more particularly the prosperity in the Middle West.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) attributes its success primarily to the fact that it earnestly desires to render the public a complete cycle of essential service, from oil well to refinery, to the consumer.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a large retailer of its own products. It maintains for this purpose a distribution system which for size, thoroughness, and efficiency is unequalled in the world. It maintains and expands its business solely on a basis of quality and service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has steadfastly maintained the policy of minimizing the spread between manufacturing costs and retail selling prices. This has meant, and means today a low price for gasoline and other petroleum products as compared with other essential commodities. A glance through any Department of Labor Bulletin featuring comparative prices for necessities will demonstrate this fact.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its success. It believes that its methods are exceptionally efficient. It believes that in many instances they have been a valuable contribution to the country's economic progress. It believes that the Company's activities redound to the advantage of the consumer and the public.

Film—your great enemy

Film is the great tooth wrecker—that vicious film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. These thin coats dim the luster of the teeth.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why tooth troubles were almost universal.

Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, now so alarmingly common.

THE SPEED OF LIGHT

Astronomers announce that an explosion, probably the greatest in our history, took place Feb. 27th out among the stars. Beta Ceti, a star of the "second magnitude," or brilliancy, suddenly flamed up and became one of the brightest stars—technically known as "first magnitude."

What the astronomers really mean is that the explosion took place 80 years ago, and that it became visible to us Feb. 27th. Beta Ceti is so far away from our earth that it takes light, traveling 186,300 miles a second, 80 years to reach us. In other words, when we look at this star, we see it as it existed in 1843. What is it like now? No way of knowing until 80 years hence, in the year 2023.

A man 10 feet from you looks up and sees you at a certain instant. Farther away, 100 feet behind him, another man looks up at identically the same time. But the second man sees you a fraction of a second later than does the first man, since it takes the light waves a fraction of a second longer to reach him. The fraction is infinitesimally small, of course. It increases with distance. You have noticed a similar phenomenon if you ever looked out at sea and saw smoke come from a cannon before you heard the report of the explosion. The explanation here is that light waves travel faster than sound waves.

When you look up in the sky at night, you see the stars not as they are today but as they were at various times in the past. The time depends on their distance. Suppose there were people living on Beta Ceti. There could not be, as we understand things, because of the intense heat up there. But just suppose. And suppose, also, that an astronomer on Beta Ceti has a telescope powerful enough to enlarge our earth sufficiently to see what is going on here. Since it takes 80 years for light waves to travel between our earth and Beta Ceti, that astronomer is seeing what happened on earth 80 years ago. It would be the year 2003 before he could see what is happening here today.

Apply the same idea to more distant stars, and people on them would be peering through their telescope today watching the Battle of Waterloo, the building of the pyramids, funeral of King Tutankhamen—and so on, according to distance.

THE AGE OF THE HUMAN RACE

The Argentinian scientist, Dr. Wolf, firmly believes, he said, on returning to Buenos Aires, that the skull found in Patagonia was the cranium of a man who lived 3,000,000 years ago. Now comes Dr. A. Hrdlicka, curator of physical anthropology in the National Museum, in Washington, and denies that it was possible for a man to exist on the earth more than 500,000 years ago. You may believe either, or neither, as you please. You may contend that the world is a few thousand years old, or a few hundreds of thousands, or a few millions, and nobody could disprove your assertion. Or you may contend that time is a factor in the development of the world, or that time is of no importance.

The antiquity of man is as readily available as an argumentative subject as is the origin of man. Science is finally precise, but it is processively speculative, and the strongest certainly maintains with regard to doubtful questions. The big subject which we shall discuss after a while is time and its relativity to organic and inorganic change. In science and industry we effectuate complete transition in approximately no time. Sound travels round the world instantaneously. Is time of major importance or not in relation to the earth's development?

One branch of science aids another, both by disproof and proof, and science arrives at fact and truth by a process of elimination and a course of doubt, as well as by direct and logical method. What we know today we discard tomorrow, and what we discard today we accept again as a hypothesis. Several departments of science are contributing effort to the study of man and the earth. This study is most interesting, as it appeals to the imagination, and it is mysterious, as well as practical and theoretical.

MEN AND NATIONS AS NEIGHBORS

At the University Union Banquet in London at which Ambassador Harvey Smedley the Prince of Wales with several pairs of flattery and parsiflage, the Prince talked to the assembly about the benefits of the "university of experience." He alluded chiefly to the practical lessons learned in travel, and lauded the union's plan to give young men the double advantage of education and overseas experience.

"The men of this generation, in your country and mine," said the heir to the British throne, "have got to learn to be men of the world in the true sense of the term: we have got to cure ourselves of any small feeling of remoteness from our fellowmen across the seas."

The men of every nation must acquire this point of view, as nationals of different lands should be on the friendliest terms. The principal reason, that peoples mistrust each other, or one another, is, perhaps, due to suspicion of tricky selfishness, and if governments and peoples are to get along amicably the men of every nation must, as a further duty, oblige public officials to be candid and fair in international relations. America should be well disposed, and is, to every other nation. We are a people without national enmities or jealousies. We are satisfied to have prosperity, and are glad to see other peoples thrive. We hope that all nations will have peace and happiness, and progress, as we have.

The prince's remarks really deserve to be extended. Citizens of this country should have no small feeling of remoteness for one another. We are all fellows under the flag and constitution, and our fellowship rests on regard for one another's rights. There is a sense of deference, as a form of strict justice, which individuals must feel and show toward one another. Two persons live agreeably in the same household by being fair and courteous to each other, and neighbors live in good will by taking cognizance of each other's civic and social prerogatives.

Travel is a good university. So is the contact which we have in business and society. In traveling we sit in impartial judgment on viewpoint and learn to see things as others see them. In personal contact we experience other's experiences, and note that the most natural condition is for persons to live and think variously. Opinions and philosophies are individualist. Freedom and justice stand on concession and deference. The necessity of the time is for each of us to realize that every person has the right to think and live, in accordance with his own ideas. Men differ in opinion; they can agree on only a few subjects. They cannot agree on most important matters. In effect, we must adopt the sound principle that individualism is the highest human right.

LEGISLATION FOR THE RAILROADS

Legislation proposed by Senator Brookhart of Iowa for regulating railroad rates does not accord with the experience which we have had in our efforts to solve the transportation problem. In fact, the Brookhart suggestions are not simply radical, they point to a disposition to abandon demonstrated principles.

The new bill would even wipe out much of the necessary power exercised by the Interstate Commerce commission in controlling interstate rates. The commission might really be put out of existence. The bill would repeal the provision which allows the carriers a fair return, which the commission has fixed at five and three-quarters per cent on actual investment. It would alter fundamentally the plan of determining the value of transportation properties.

Experience has taught us that rate regulation by commission, being scientific and quasi-judicial, is fairer and more effective than regulation by legislation. It has shown that proper valuation is the only satisfactory means of eliminating water from capitalization, and that this is, therefore, the most practical basis for determining rates. We may not agree that capitalization has been properly fixed, but the principle holds nevertheless. It has demonstrated that railroad companies are entitled to reasonable earnings on actual investment.

The ills of agriculture and commerce cannot be cured by making the railroads ill. They have had enough sickness as it is. The truth is that we have had far too much regulatory lawmaking. Senator Brookhart's intentions are no doubt sincere, but agriculture and commerce would be injured more than the carriers by the legislation he proposes.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE GERMLESS THEORY

These extremely plausible newfangled healers who disappear from the barber shop or the shoe store in January and bob up in April fulfilled and ready to punch your treatment ticket three weeks, at $1.50 the punch, get off some telling remarks in the appeal to the prospect about the "germ theory."

It seems that Mrs. Shub Inn must have any line of treatment fully explained to her before she will take a ticket, just as the eminent chemist explains to the luckless housekeeper, with one foot thrust into her front door, precisely why she should use baking powder only in a violet box instead of the ordinary red or yellow box stuff. So the "germ theory" has to stand some furious assaults.

Isn't it ridiculous that the poor deluded doctor with his "pills and potions" put a pin in the theory that will seriously disturb an alleged disease germ at work—should harbor such a theory in these days of short cut learning? And worse still, how inconsistent it is of modern scientists, that when they wish to study a disease they simply administer some of the germs of the disease to a susceptible animal and develop a case to order?

Students of history will recall that General Braddock took no stock in the "Indian theory" of young George Washington and other advisors on the occasion of the expedition from the colony of Virginia against the French at Fort Duquesne. Poor Braddock and most of his "disciplined troops" paid with their lives for their ignorance of Indian warfare.

I have never known any one to attack the "germ theory" or to attempt to cast doubt on the importance of bacteria in the causation of infectious disease, who did not urge or suggest some other theory to account for disease, and as long as the favored theory is plausible to the untutored layman and not loudly acclaimed by regular physicians, anything a shrewd charlatan can hatch for the occasion will do. There is nothing like an appeal to the layman's "common sense," seeing he hasn't the uncommon sense which comes with a knowledge of science.

To one with uncommon sense tuberculosis, for instance, is proved to be caused by the tubercle bacillus when (1) the tubercle bacillus is found at the seat of disease, (2) animals inoculated with a culture of the tubercle bacillus isolated from the seat of disease develop tuberculosis, and (3) the tubercle bacillus is recovered from the tuberculous lesions in the inoculated animals. That is just as positive proof, to one with common sense, as would be the planting and harvesting of potatoes that potato seed produced potatoes. Imagine anyone discussing the "potato theory" of the growth of vegetables. Germs are smaller than potatoes but it takes a microscope to discover some of the greatest truths.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Will Albert S. K. Please Notice

Albert S. K. wrote a detailed description of his "case," and included a ponderous report of examination which had been made by a representative of the Life Extension Institute. From a cursory inspection of the minutes I gathered that Albert S. K. had a "trace of albumin" and a moderate anemia and one or two other trifling conditions, and my advice, by return mail, was that Albert S. K. consult a physician to find out what ailed him and what should be done for it. That was the only advice I could give Albert S. K. and still honestly sign your sincerely.

Whereupon Albert S. K. sent a sarcastic rejoinder, the brevity of which was startling after the prolixity of his earlier letter. "Tardion my mistake," he wrote, "I supposed I was consulting one."

Not a very uncommon mistake, I regret to say. However, it can't be done. Of course, you may communicate with a physician by letter, but you can't consult him that way. Not in my judgment, anyhow. That is why I do not give medical advice, but refer all correspondents seeking such advice to a physician. This is a health column absolutely, Mr. Sheen. No disease treated here, positively, Mr. Gallagher.

While on his way from his home to the office of the Fox River Paper company, John H. Wharton cut his face severely by a fall on the icy sidewalk.

TEN YEARS AGO

Wednesday, March 5, 1913

W. J. Laird of Shiocton was in Appleton on business.

The Knights of Pythias had under consideration the purchase of the Pardee residence on Lawrence-st or the leasing of the former quarters of the Elks in the W. D. Wharton building.

Secretary D. P. Steinberg of the Appleton Fair association started work on the annual premium list which was to contain 160 pages as against 112 the previous year.

A resolution asking a probe of moral conditions at the University of Wisconsin was introduced in the senate by H. M. Cubbertson of Outagamie-co.

The C. O. Baer comp of Spanish-American war veterans were to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of their departure for war on April 23 with a banquet.

Dr. F. T. Rouse of Omaha, Neb., former pastor of the Congregational church, was to be the principal speaker at the twenty-first anniversary banquet of the Young Men's Sunday evening club.

Mrs. Huck Came Near A Record

BY HARRY HUNT

Washington — Winnifred Mason Huck's defeat for the nomination to the seat in the Sixty-eighth Congress left vacant by the recent death of James R. Mann of Chicago lost her the chance to hang up a new record in Congressional elections.

Had Mrs. Huck won, she would have achieved two elections to Congress within a period of six months, having been elected only last November to fill the unexpired term of her father.

Woman suffragists throughout the country were pulling for her election—which would have given a woman the honor of being first to be elected twice to Congress within a period of six months.

Mrs. Huck's defeat, although by a narrow margin, continues the record, unbroken to date, that no woman member in Congress has been returned for a second term.

Speaking of election records, however, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas has the unique distinction of having been a representative in Congress, a governor of his state and senator-elect, all within the space of a fortnight.

Robinson was a member of Congress when he was elected to be governor of Arkansas. He resigned from the House Jan. 14, 1913, and was inaugurated governor Jan. 16. Senator Jeff Davis suddenly died and on Jan. 28, Robinson was elected to fill the Senatorial vacancy.

Aside from golf, probably no pastime gives President Harding more real enjoyment than a social chat with old-time friends.

Last week in looking over his appointment card the president noted the names: "Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle, Montclair, N. J." They were down for an interview of five minutes.

"Who's Tuttle?" the president inquired of Secretary Christian, who had presented the day's schedule.

"Why, Mr. President," said Christian, "that's George Tuttle, who used to be a linotype operator on the Marion Star. Mrs. Tuttle used to be one of your proof-readers."

"Put 'em at the bottom of the list," Harding directed at once, "so I can give 'em all the time they want. And George—have one of the White House automobiles here and put it at their disposal for the rest of their stay in Washington."

"We'll leave it to you if that isn't treating old pals square!"

A "moderate" resumption of White House social activities next fall may be expected, providing Mrs. Harding's health continues its present gratifying improvement.

This improvement, according to General Charles E. Sawyer, White House physician, while gradual is steady and inspires the hope that after a few months away from Washington, among surroundings where rest and recuperation are more stimulating, the "first lady" will have recovered her oldtime vigor and strength.

Intimates familiar with Mrs. Harding's desires socially say that her chief pleasure in the White House social activities is in the enjoyment given her guests.

To the extent, then, that White House functions can be continued

Q. What sound has the first 1 in the world Italian? B. L. N.

A. It has the same sound as in the word Italy.

Q. How does the safety match differ from the ordinary match? E. F. F.

A. The composition of the head of an ordinary match consists of phosphorus and nitre, or phosphorus, sulphur and chlorate of potash, mixed with melted gum or glue, and colored with vermilion, amber soil, or any other coloring material. The safety match differs from the ordinary match in having the phosphorus omitted from the composition applied to the match stick and combined instead with sand to form a friction surface on the match box, where the matches, which usually have chlorate of potash in their heads, are rubbed in order to be lighted.

Q. How much of a Navy did this country have during the Revolutionary War? K. R. L.

A. In 1776 the Navy had 31 cruisers mounting 586 guns and no less than 136 privateers mounting 1,360 guns had been fitted out. The Government war vessels in service during the Revolution numbered 64, carrying a total of 1,242 guns.

Q. What was the date on which the Government took over the railroads? S. K. P.

A. On December 26, 1917, President Wilson issued a proclamation; under the power granted him by Congress on August 29, 1916, taking over for Federal control all the large railroads and many of the smaller lines. Congress passed the Federal Control Act in March following.

Q. What is the shortest State Constitution? K. K. K.

A. The original constitution adopted in 1779 by New Hampshire is probably the shortest document of its kind as it contained only 600 words in addition to the preamble.

Q. When did Lincoln say "You can fool all of the people some of the time, some of the people all of the time; but not all of the people all of the time?" P. M.

A. The Wisdom of Lincoln, published in 1908, says that Abraham Lincoln employed the expression in a speech made at Clinton, Illinois, on September 8, 1855.

Q. How many Hebrew manuscripts are there of the Old Testament and without imposing impossible physical exertion upon her, it is believed she will desire them renewed.

The occasion, in light, to that end, less strictly formal and the hostess relieved of the duty of standing for hours in a receiving line simply to shake each guest by the hand and bid him welcome. Such an omission, under the circumstances, would be fully understood and approved.

The endless round of receptions and social duties observed by Mrs. Harding during her first year in the White House, however, will not be renewed. But "moderate" social activity is expected.

Greek manuscripts of the New Testament in existence? H. D. H.

A. The American Bible Society says that it is quite impossible to keep track of the number of Hebrew manuscripts of the Old Testament or of the Greek manuscripts of the New Testament that are now available. The term is rather indefinite. The three most important and most complete manuscripts of the Bible, of course, are the Sinaitic, Alexandrian and the Vatican. But, since these were discovered in 1859 there have been numerous fragments brought to light until now there are about 2,000 such of the Hebrew and from 5,000 to 6,000 of the Greek or of the Greek and Hebrew combined; so that there are available about 8,000 more or less authentic fragment manuscripts which are worthy of serious consideration in a study of the original languages.

Q. Does the temperature of water at great depths change?

A. At the depth of 400 fathoms or more the temperature of the ocean remains approximately the same all the time. Thus at latitude 70 degrees north the temperature of the water at that depth remains steady at 32 degrees, Fahrenheit.

Q. What military leader sent the hold-the-fort message? J. E. T.

A. On October 5, 1864, General William T. Sherman signalled from the top of Kenesaw mountain to General Corse in Alatoona the message, "Hold the fort! I am coming!"

Q. Did Shakespeare take part in his own plays? O. N.

A. It is thought that he did in some. He is said to have played the ghost in Hamlet and Adam in As You Like It.

Germany Seems To Have Money

(Laurence Adler in the North American Review)

"According to authoritative reports Germany is spending more money than any other European power, and there seems to be conclusive evidence that this policy has been adopted deliberately to inflate the already inflated currency and make it apparently impossible to pay the reparation bill. Munich is to have one of the largest railway stations in the world. Königsberg is building a costly new municipal opera house. A 200-wire telephone service has been recently installed between Frankfurt and Berlin, so as to facilitate communication between these two important centers. These are commonplace in European news. German roads and canals are in excellent condition. Many of her cities are in a prosperous state. Her merchant marine has been rebuilt, her industries are reviving and indications of suffering seems to be largely among the poorer or middle classes, and this on account of the action of the big business men and industrialists, who are to a certain extent responsible for the fall of the mark and the consequent higher prices.

Should Acquire Business Manners

(By Elbert Hubbard)

Courteous manners in little things are an asset worth acquiring. When a customer approaches, rise and offer a chair. Step aside and let the store's guest pass first into the elevator. These are little things, but they make you and your work finer. To give fresh and flippant answers, even to stupid or impudent people, is a great mistake. Most rudeness with unfailing politeness and see how much better you feel. Your promise to a customer is your employer's promise. A broken promise always hurts. And it shows weakness in the character of a business organization just as unreliability does in an individual.

Most inaccuracies come from not really listening to what is said, or not really seeing what you put down. The chewing of gum, tobacco or paper as a jaw exerciser should be eliminated. The world is now pronouncing them vulgar, unbusinesslike, useless and silly. Keep ahead of your employer and of the board of health in this.

CAPITOL JOKES

BY J. N. TINSCHER
U. S. Representative From Kansas, Seventh District

ANY years ago a Kansas couple bought a farm, on which they paid down all their savings, giving a mortgage for the rest of the purchase price. The land agent's commission amounted to a considerable sum and the farmer's wife objected strenuously to paying it. Crops were bad and the couple lost the place by foreclosure.

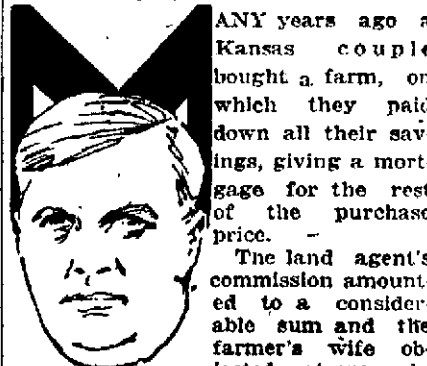

Years passed. Luck changed. The pair prospered. Finally they bought another farm. This time the wife specified in advance that no commission should go to anybody. She considered it bad luck.

The lawyer who drew up the deed and mortgage acceded to her request, and the wife seemed satisfied; but when she and her husband returned home, she found under the notarial seal these words:

"My commission expires Sept. 16, 188—"

And it took the lawyer and her husband months to convince her that something hadn't been put over on her.

Kid Stories To Be Drawn By Artist

Miss Margaret Gardner Of Chicago Will Present Program On Saturday

A program of unusual interest to mother and dad as well as to the younger members of the family will be given at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Appleton Theater when Miss Margaret Gardner of the Chicago Art Institute, will give a chalk talk. Miss Gardner will make her appearance in Appleton through the combined efforts of Appleton Women's Club and the Neenah Young Women's Club and will tell stories of special interest to youngsters and will illustrate them. Among her numbers are such as "Seen Things at Night," "Little Black Sambo," and "How the Elephant Got His Trunk."

The program Saturday afternoon is the first of a series of children's plays which will be given by the recreation department, the proceeds of which will go to the women's club building fund. The department realizes the need of wholesome, interesting programs for children, but the interest will not stop with the children, for the types of programs to be given will be as appealing to the parents.

Most of the public schools are showing their approval of the program by handing tickets and urging the pupils to go.

Miss Gardner will include an unusual feature in her program. In a letter to the school department she said, "It may interest the children to know I always make special pictures for those contributing a song, recitation or stunt." The children contributing material will thus be able to see their stories appear in picture form.

GAME PROTECTION ASSURED BY HALL AT BOOSTER EVENT

Addresses Are Given At Opening Meeting Of Game Association Drive

Elmer S. Hall, the new conservation commissioner, in a talk before Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association at a booster meeting for its membership campaign at the vocational school Tuesday evening assured members that the fish of Fox and Wolf rivers will be amply protected by game wardens in the future.

The speaker mentioned briefly the plans of the conservation commission which were generally approved by the local association. Instead of building fish hatcheries to cost from $30,000 to $60,000, he favored the building of those costing from $2,500 to $3,000 and wants more of them. He said Michigan has 35 hatcheries and getting three times as much money from tourists as Wisconsin.

Mr. Hall's plan is to increase the production of fish with as little expense as possible. Relative to employees of fish hatcheries he said they are busy only a small portion of the year and he proposes to use them in the protection of partridges, pheasants and game generally when not otherwise engaged.

E. D. Upson, lecturer for the conservation commission, gave a talk on forestry and its connection with the conservation of fish and game. His talk was illustrated with motion pictures, which showed logging operations, and how fish are propagated at the hatcheries. Views of paper and pulp mills and other industries were shown.

The talks were followed by an informal discussion of licenses and the consensus of opinion appeared to favor a combined hunting and fishing license. It is not generally known that under present conditions all the money the conservation commission gets comes from the sale of hunting licenses and nonresident fishing licenses. The plan is to make the fishermen bear a reasonable share of the burden.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy - If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel liver - to do this you must watch your liver and bowels - there's no need of having a sallow complexion - dark rings under your eyes - pimples - a bilious look in your face - dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c. adv.

Death Was Expected At Any Moment

From the little town of Fulda, Indiana, Mr. B. C. Birchler writes an unsolicited testimonial on the wonderful restorative powers of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says: "In the year 1905 I was very low with a severe attack of kidney trouble. Three noted physicians had given me up, expecting death at any moment, but I lingered for months, until accidentally one day I found an old Dodd's almanac which described symptoms exactly as mine. I then procured a box of your pills, took a double dose and the second day actually felt relieved. After a week I felt so good that I was glad to be alive. I continued using them and they cured me. This was years ago and I can truthfully say I have never yet been laid up with the same disease. A severe attack of 'flu' last winter affected my kidneys, so I bought three boxes of your pills and used them for my whole family with the same good results."

Write to the above customer and get the benefit of his experience. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope with note paper for reply.

If you're not a sufferer, do some friends a good turn by clipping this ad and forwarding it to them. And don't wait yourself until kidney trouble attacks you. Thousands of healthy people take Dodd's Kidney Pills annually during March and November as directed, simply to keep their kidneys in perfect condition at all times.

Dodd's are sold by all good druggists. Large box 60c. Make sure you get DODD'S (three D's in the name). Prompt relief or your money back. If your dealer's supply happens to be out, send 60c in stamps to DODDS MEDICINE CO., Buffalo, N. Y., 700 Main St.

Hearers Of Bauer Tease For Encores

Master Pianist Called Back When Program At Chapel Tuesday Is Over

A large and appreciative audience greeted Harold Bauer in his piano concert in Lawrence Memorial chapel Tuesday evening in the ninth number of the Community Lecture and Artist Series. His program was delightful and his hearers showed their pleasure by insisting on an encore after his numbers were finished, to which the pianist yielded.

Mr. Bauer played with rare skill and drew perhaps his deepest appreciation in his second group, three movements from Beethoven's Sonata Appassionata. Chopin's Scherzo in C Sharp Minor also brought forth an extra volume of applause.

The piano master opened his program with five movements from Bach's Partita in B Flat. His other numbers were: Schumann's "Papillons;" Etude in D Flat, Schubert, and Impromptu in A Flat, Schubert, and

First Lien & Refunding Mortgage 5 1/2% Gold Bonds, Ser. 'A', Due June 1, 1962

This company serves the territory immediately adjoining the City of Chicago on all sides. It is impossible for Chicago to expand without such growth invading the territory of this Company. As a consequence, the number of consumers of the Company's service has increased steadily from 144,093 in 1916 to 220,160 at the end of 1922, an increase of 52%. The territory served has a combined population, according to the 1920 U. S. Census, of 1,456,667 excluding the City of Chicago. The service rendered includes the supplying of electricity, gas, heat and water. The Company serves not only the residential suburban territory tributary to the City of Chicago, but also one of the best manufacturing districts of the country which, because of its transportation facilities, its nearness to large supplies of raw materials and to Chicago as a distributing center, is an excellent mark for light, power, and industrial gas.

The First Lien and Refunding Bonds precede $10,000,000 outstanding preferred stock paying 6% dividends, and 157,753 shares of common stock paying $7.00 per share per annum, having a combined market value as indicated by present quotations of over $25,000,000.

We believe that bonds of this class when issued by an old conservative and well established company, such as the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, represents a very high grade investment, and we especially recommend this issue for permanent investment.

COUNCIL SPENDS $8,000 MORE ON NEW HIGH SCHOOL

City's Fire Department Will Cost About $12,000 For Salaries

Kaukauna.—An encouraging report of the fire and police commission was given at the last regular meeting of the old council in the new chambers in the administration building Tuesday evening. Upon request of the board of education, the council went on record authorizing the expenditure of an additional $8,000 to install marble wall fixtures in shower bath rooms and toilets in the new high school. The milk ordinance, which was again laid over, following a talk by Mrs. James O'Connell, city nurse, in which she declared that the terms of the ordinance were hardly fair to all milk men because of their present inability to pasteurize milk.

The Kaukauna fire department will cost about $12,000 a year for salaries, according to the report submitted to the council. Eight men will be hired to work on a two platform system with four on each shift. Six men have already been hired and four of them are working. The driver and mechanic will receive a salary of $1235 monthly and the hosemen will receive $100 a month.

The firemen will be subject to call at any time but will be on duty at the engine house only 11 hours on the day shift and 13 hours on the night shift. Enough beds will be secured for the entire force and they will be asked to sleep in the engine house continually, although that will not be compulsory. No more than two firemen will be free to leave the city at one time.

After agreeing that the new high school should be completed in the best possible manner, the council authorized the board of education to proceed with the expenditure of $8,000 to put marble in the shower rooms and toilet rooms. Present specifications call for a prepared cement which is absorbent and which will have to be replaced.

ASSURE BIG SALE FOR SCHOOL PLAY

Kaukauna.—Reservations for the high school opened Friday and Saturday evening at the auditorium, are being made with surprising speed. Although the seats are by no means all taken, most of the very best ones are reserved, and indications are that those in charge made no mistake in presenting the operetta for two nights.

A final rehearsal was held Wednesday afternoon at the auditorium. The dress rehearsal and children's matinee will be held at the auditorium Thursday afternoon. It will begin about 3:15 Music will be furnished by the high school orchestra.

Special scenery will again be used for the play as has been done in the previous operetta. A suitable scene for the out door act is being painted by Miss Johanna Hoffman, office clerk and member of the high school faculty. Miss Hoffman's scene in last year's play attracted considerable attention.

OLD CITY HALL IS TURNED OVER KAUKAUNA LEGION

City Dads Glad To Give Veterans Free Use Of Building

Kaukauna.—Give them the whole works! cried the city council at its meeting in the new council rooms Tuesday evening following the petition of Kaukauna Post No. 41, American legion, for the use of the second floor of the old engine house, formerly occupied as the council rooms, as a permanent meeting place for that organization. It was the first meeting of the council in the new chambers and the last regular meeting of the old council before the new body takes its place after election.

Everyone was in jovial mood and when Lester Brenzel, post commander and spokesman for about 20 other legionnaires present, asked for the upper rooms of the building, one alderman recalled the promises of the people when the boys went away, told what has not been done, especially in this city, and ended by placing himself on record as being in favor of turning the whole building over to the local legion.

EVERYTHING FREE. After a few remarks by other aldermen a motion was made and quickly passed. Thus it is that Kaukauna American legion has a permanent meeting place. The council went on record as offering free heat, lights, full furnishing for the rooms and free drinking water. The arrangements also includes the old safe of the city, which, it was intimated, has an interesting history that may some day be revealed.

Upon the suggestion of the council, the legion agreed to share the new quarters with the local organization of the Boy Scouts of America. It is probable that the building will in the near future be remodeled to correspond with the beauty of its surroundings and be beautified according to present plans in connection with the new high school building.

FURS AND MYSTERY

BY A. CARSTENSEN

Sable
Sable is a fur which people are usually somewhat cautious about buying, due perhaps to the money involved, and yet that same caution might well be used in buying furs of ANY kind. Were you in the market for a sable piece, the dealer without reputation would no doubt get little consideration, because you would feel that he was well armed with substitutes.

And well you might. From the lowly rabbit, or coney, upward to the mink, no possible substitute for sable has been overlooked.

Marmot, hare, fitch, weasel and muskrat are all used in attempting to imitate this valuable fur, but the deception is usually poor—due to the fact that genuine sable fur is long, dense and remarkably soft. Besides this, it is so peculiarly rooted in the skin that it may be brushed with the hand in the natural direction, from head to tail, or the reverse, and it will remain as placed without apparent injury or loss of beauty.

The best grade of sable fur comes from Russia, and here again the dealer who lacks honesty has a chance to deceive, as it is a common practice for such men to offer American sable at a price as high as that usually asked for the genuine Russian sable. adv.

The Fable of TUT

Three thousand years ago lived an Egyptian King named Tut-Ankh-Amen. It sounded like a Stutter and the Gang at the Luxor Golf Club called him "Tut."

When Tut reached the Cake Eater age and got his Hair plastered back Right—he died. Dying was one of the leading Egyptian In-Door Sports and Tut's death was a Major Event. They slipped him into a Swell Tomb in the Valley of the Kings.

Three thousand years later a Party of Snoopers dug up Tut's Tomb and all the Junk buried with him. The Advertising Men took charge of Tut and in a few weeks have given him a Rep which makes Charlie Chaplin's, "Doug's", and M. "Day-By-Day" Coué's look like a last year's Almanac in comparison.

Dead for 3000 years! Lost! Forgotten! Then, Bang! Advertised—and a whole world hollers for more news of Tut!

If advertising can thus put life into a Dead One—what can't it do for a Live One?

For a Live Business?—For Your Business?
They could have dug up a hundred Tuts in the desert and if they kept the good news to themselves—only a few Bald-Headed Historians would have ever known it.

You can have the best merchandise in the world. But if the world does not get Hep to it—the business will sleep along peacefully.

Remember Tut!

MARCH 11 PICKED BY LOCAL PASTORS AS CIVIC SUNDAY

Needs of Appleton Will Be Promoted From Pulpits, Association Votes

Appleton Ministerial association at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday morning endorsed the Greater Appleton movement and suggested that Sunday, March 11, be designated as civic Sunday. The endorsement and suggestion are embodied in an expression of the association adopted after the subject was presented by James E. Gheen and John P. Ballantyne.

The statement reads: "The Appleton Ministerial association, having heard an outline of the ideas and ideals of the Greater Appleton movement now being directed by our chamber of commerce and believing it to be for the best interests of every element in the city's life, hereby expresses hearty approval of the movement."

"As a means to further the general interest and success of this common and united effort, we suggest that Sunday, March 11, be designated in our city as civic Sunday and that so far as it may best be adapted to the plan and purposes of each church program for that Sunday, that recognition be given to the civic, social and patriotic needs of the city of Appleton as represented by the Greater Appleton movement."

The declaration is signed by Dr. J. A. Holmes, president, and the Rev. C. W. Cross, secretary.

SIX BADGER CITIES HAVE ZONING LAWS

Neenah Is Nearest Place With Measure Such As Is Proposed Here

Six Wisconsin cities have zoning ordinances, according to a survey made by the United States department of commerce. Appleton is not listed in the report because the ordinance here, while all prepared and approved by the city planning commission, has not been adopted by the common council and made a law.

Neenah has an ordinance adopted in 1915 regulating the use to which property may be put. Cudahy enacted a similar measure in 1912. Racine in 1921 and Janesville in 1922. Milwaukee enacted a comprehensive law like the one proposed for Appleton in 1920 and Janesville did likewise in 1922.

Zoning ordinances have been adopted by 109 municipalities throughout the country, the federal report shows and this is indicative of the rapid progress of zoning since Jan. 1, 1922, when only 55 plans had such ordinances in effect.

GREEN BAY "Y" MEN TO HAVE CONFERENCE HERE

The committee in charge of the Y. M. C. A. building campaign of Green Bay is planning to meet with the board of directors of Appleton Y. M. C. Efficiency And High Standard Reached By Local Military Band

Musical Organization Needs Support So Good Players Can Be Provided With Work When Asked To Come To Appleton

Appleton has many creditable organizations, and especially musical organizations. One of these is the 121st Field Artillery band.

The present Artillery band is the outgrowth of the old Appleton band which was contemporaneous of the Artillery Band of Oshkosh. Upon formation of the State Guard during the war it was reorganized as the Ninth Regimental band under the leadership of F. H. Jebe. Mr. Jebe succeeded in rounding up a first class organization but was finally obliged to give up his leadership on account of other duties.

Professor Percy Fullinwider of Lawrence, Conservatory of Music then became the director of the organization and at this time also the Ninth Regimental band was reorganized as the 121st Field Artillery band. Since the resignation of Mr. Jebe, Professor Fullinwider has had constant charge. Under his direction the band has been in constant practice for nearly three years.

Although existing primarily as a concert band the organization is a part of the Wisconsin National Guard, known officially as the band section, Service Battery, 121st Field Artillery. It maintains a high place among military bands, not only in this state but in the middle west. A colonel of the regular army who has charge of several musical units in the service made the remark to the commanding general at Camp Custer that the military band from Appleton was as good as a concert band, with one possible exception, as it had been his pleasure to hear in the regiment that year. This statement was made after one of the concerts given by the band at Camp Custer last summer.

While at Camp Custer the Appleton unit was invited to give a concert at the Battle Creek sanitarium. It enjoyed a most enthusiastic reception, where it played before an audience of fully 3,000 people. Two evenings before, the well known Second Regiment Army band had given a concert at the sanitarium which, according to the management, was highly appreciated—"but you lads from Appleton," as they said, "certainly got the enthusiastic reception." Upon the band's return home Lieut. Lindberg received a letter of thanks from the management of the sanitarium in which it was stated that the demand for a repetition of the concert was so great at the institution that the manager had made a trip to Camp Custer on purpose to get the boys to come back the next Friday evening. He expressed his disappointment at their premature departure and wanted a promise that if they ever returned to Camp Custer they would not fail to come to the sanitarium.

LINDBERG IN COMMAND

Eric D. Lindberg is commanding officer with rank of second lieutenant, and is personally responsible for the military affairs of the company. Under his charge he not only has $5,000 worth of instruments furnished by the federal government, but also is responsible for all the uniforms and all the other equipment furnished by the government. Prior to Mr. Lindberg's attachment to the band the military side of the organization was neglected. Now, not only does the band rank as a fine musical organization but it has a high rank from the military standpoint.

Professor Fullinwider carries the rank of warrant officer but has no military duties.

The business administration of the band is conducted by a board of directors of which Stephen C. Rosebush is president and treasurer, William Steenis, vice president, and Henry Gleisner, secretary. It is the duty of this board to provide funds for the running expenses and to conduct the other business of the band not of military nature.

SUPPORTED TWO WAYS

The financial support of the band is derived from two sources: The federal government and the city of Appleton.

The government pays for room rental and expenses connected thereto. It also pays the men $1.25 each for one rehearsal a week and also pays the usual military fee when the band is on military duty. This military support, however, does not go far toward providing for a bulk of the expense. The director has a salary not provided for by the government. No allowance is made by the government for the many other incidental expenses necessitated.

The city of Appleton has generously supported the band in the past, without which support the band could never have endured. For two years the common council has donated $2,000 with which the organization can survive but cannot expand. One great need at the present time is for clarinetists but no funds are provided whereby new musicians may be brought to this city and supported until they can find work. In return for the $2,000 appropriated by the city the band agrees to play ten concerts a year, presumably four in the college chapel and six in the various parks.

"Appleton people should be interested in a municipal band," Mr. Lindberg says. "The 121st Field Artillery band must be supported. It has its place in the city's social and cultural life. Its members are enthusiastic and sincere in their purpose to maintain high standards. Its business affairs are conducted efficiently, and it can play a high grade of music."

"The great need of the band at the present time is not for money; it is more for moral support from the business men of the city. There are today several good clarinetists who would come to Appleton immediately if they could find work. There is no system, however, whereby such men desiring to locate in Appleton can be brought in touch with those desiring help. It is to be hoped that in the near future some patriotic Appleton society will take hold of this work for the band as, for instance, the Rotary club took hold of the boy scout work. The band cannot survive on $2,000 support from the city alone. This money is paid mostly to the various members for their services at the concerts. More than the money, it needs the assistance of a group of business men who are enthusiastically interested in the band but have no organization whereby they can render any assistance."

The personnel of the band includes the following:

Mike Steinhauer, drum major; William Steenis, French horn; Arnold Gmeiner, cornet; Ellery Woodis, cornet; Anson Bauer, baritone; Hugh Brinkman, cornet; Edward Ellis, trombone; S. C. Rosebush, baritone; Edwin Bell, cornet; Gustave Bochnert of Kaukauna, trombone; Arthur Demand, trombone; J. Darrow, bass; Orin Defferding, snare drums; Anton Fischer, clarinet; Henry Gleisner, bass; Edward Hoffman, French horn; George Klein, clarinet; Louis Lettman, clarinet; Glenn Pelton, flute and piccolo; James Perle, cornet; Gustave Seeger, bass; George Steenis, cornet; Harry Tondreau, tenor saxophone; Erwin Weddig of Menasha, bass; Joseph Wettengel, bass drum and cymbals; Frank Kraus, alto saxophone; Carl Schiebeler, French horn; John B. Schiebeler, clarinet; Edward Steenis, cornet; Arnold Schmalz of Menasha, trombone; William Taber, clarinet; Arnold Lueders, trombone; Alexander Casadonti of Milwaukee, clarinet; Norman Zunker of Hartford, flute and piccolo; Cecil Furringer, clarinet; Roman Wettstein, saxophone.

COUNCIL WINDING UP ITS AFFAIRS

One half of the city aldermen will refrain from campaigning long enough to attend the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening. It will be the last meeting before the primary election and one of the last of the present council. It is likely that as much unfinished business as possible will be disposed of in the closing meetings.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY SIR NORMAN GREYVES' SIDE

I resigned my position at Scotland Yard for two reasons. First as a protest against an act of gross injustice which, although it did not affect me personally, was still bitterly resented by the majority of my fellow-workers, and secondly because, through the unexpected death of a distant relative, I succeeded to a baronetcy and a sufficient income. I spent the best part of three years in travel, nearly half of which time I was in the United States. On my return to London I found myself, much against my will, hankering after my old profession. It was very clear to me that my old department had lost the mastery it had once had over the criminal world. The problems of several cold-blooded murders remained entirely unsolved. In the intervals of my country life, I began to study these from an outsider's point of view, chiefly from the columns of the newspapers, but also to some extent from hints and information supplied to me by my friend Inspector Pimlico, who had been one of my colleagues in the old days and now held the post which I had vacated. Gradually I came to a certain conclusion, a conclusion which I kept largely to myself because I felt sure that no one at the Yard was likely to agree with me. I decided that the majority of these undetected crimes were due to one person, or rather to one gang of criminals presided over by one dominant leader. Purely from the developed instinct by my long years of service in the police department, I set myself the task of hunting down this super-criminal.

There were three crimes which I became convinced had been committed by the same hand. The first was the great robbery of jewels from Messrs. Henson & Watts' establishment in Regent Street, and the murder of the watchman, who was shot dead at his post. No trace of even a single article of this jewelry had ever been discovered. The second crime was the robbery of a number of bonds from a messenger in a railway carriage on the London, Chatham and Dover line. The messenger was also shot, but recovered after six months' nursing, although he could never give any coherent account of what had happened to him. The bonds were disposed of in South America. The third was the robbery from Lord Wenderley's house in Park Lane.

There were other crimes which I thought might be connected with these, but these three for various reasons, became linked together in my mind as the outcome of one man's planning. I set myself the task of discovering this one man, and the day came at last when I really believed that I was in a position to lay my hand upon him. There is no necessity to detail the evidence which pointed to this man. It is enough to say that after watching him for three weeks, I became convinced that a man of the name of Thomas Pugsley, carrying on business in Bermondsey as a leather broker, and living apparently the most respectable of lives at Brington, was in some measure connected with these crimes.

I discovered that Pugsley's leather-goods business was prosecuted without energy or attention, that his frequent absences from London were not in neighborhoods where his wares could be pushed, and that he was often away for a month at a time, with his whereabouts unknown even to his landlady. The latter was a highly respectable woman at whose house he had lived for the last two years and who, I honestly believe, was ignorant of her lodger's antecedents, habits and business. By taking rooms in the neighborhood, I easily discovered all that she knew and one or two circumstances which lent color to my suspicions. I placed these before Rimmington, and it was decided to make an arrest.

A more clumsy piece of business than this intended arrest was never planned or carried into effect. The inspector placed in charge of the affair by Rimmington, and his two subordinates, arrived at Brington an hour later than the time fixed upon, accosted Pugsley in the street, and were very soon made aware of the class of person with whom they had to deal. Before the inspector could get out half a dozen words, he was lying on the pavement with a bullet through his shoulder. His companions dragged him to the pavement and set him up against the railing. Then they turned to look for Pugsley. There was not a trace of him to be discovered anywhere.

The amazing skill and cunning of the man was amply demonstrated on that morning. By some extraordinary means he seemed to disappear from the face of the earth.

The morning which witnessed, however, the shooting of the inspector and the remarkable disappearance of the man in whom I was so deeply interested, was memorable, not far as I was concerned, for another noteworthy incident. Absolutely disgusted with the result of my six months' labors I determined to wipe the whole thing from my memory, and traveled down to Woking with the intention of playing a round of golf. I was introduced by the secretary to a resident of the place whose name was James Stanfield, and we had a most which ranks amongst the best I ever played in my life. Stanfield was a silent but by no means a gloomy person. He appeared to be about forty years of age and an absolute golf fanatic. He played ever shot with the most ridiculous care, but I must confess with also the most wonderful precision. His driving was never long, but they were long enough for him to escape trouble, and in the approximate eighty shots which he took to complete the course, I cannot remember one that was in any way fluffed or fooled. He beat me at the seventeenth hole, and it was while we stood together upon the eighteenth tee that the incident happened which was to bring still more excitement into the day.

On our right was a small planting of shrubs through which wound the path which my partner pointed out to me as leading to his house. Our attention was attracted by the continued barking of a small dog which had wandered from the adjacent footpath. I had the curious idea to see what was the trouble. "My companion, however, who was a little on my left, was the first to discover the cause of the dog's excitement. At a little cry from him I hurried to his side. Stretched upon his back, with extended arms, and a small blue hole in his forehead, we found the body of a man. He was dead but still warm, and by an extraordinary chance I at once recognized him. He was one of the two plainclothes policemen whom I had seen in Woolton Road that morning, foiled in his attempt to arrest the man who had been passing under the name of Thomas Pugsley!

JANET SOALE'S EXPLANATION

Just before midday on Thursday, the third of November, my master made one of his unexpected reappearances. I was not surprised. Only the night before, I had dreamed of him, and it seemed to me impossible that with my passionate prayers going out day by day, he should stay away much longer. When I first saw him turn in at the gate, I was filled with excitement. If he could have seen me at that moment, he would have known and understood every thing. By the time he had reached the front door, however, and I let him in, I had regained my self-control. I must have seemed to him just the ordinary well-mannered, well-conducted parlor-maid.

He changed his clothes and went off presently for his round of golf. When I went to his room to brush and press the clothes which he had taken off, I found, however, that he had placed them in a drawer and apparently locked it. The discovery coming on top of many others, gave me food for thought. I resolved to watch the next morning's newspapers. It was becoming more and more clear to me that there was something in my master's manner of life which he was anxious to conceal from the world. I was the more convinced of this when I saw that in the top drawer, which he had opened to take out a tie, he had concealed a small revolver, loaded in all six chambers.

FEAR FOR GIRL'S LIFE IF TEMPERATURE LOWERS

By Associated Press
Escanaba, Mich.—Miss Evelyn Lyons, 30, who for the past 16 days has started the medical profession with a temperature reading of 114 degrees or better passed a very good night, according to the report issued Tuesday morning by Dr. Henry Defnet, physician in charge. The girl's appetite also remains good. Dr. Defnet declared.

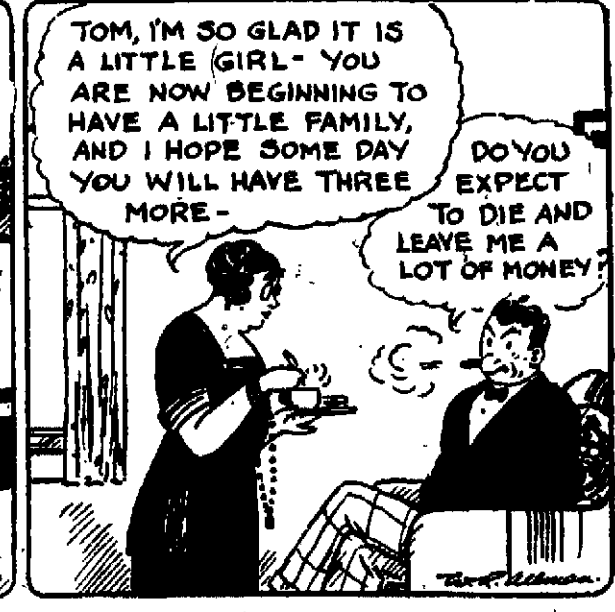

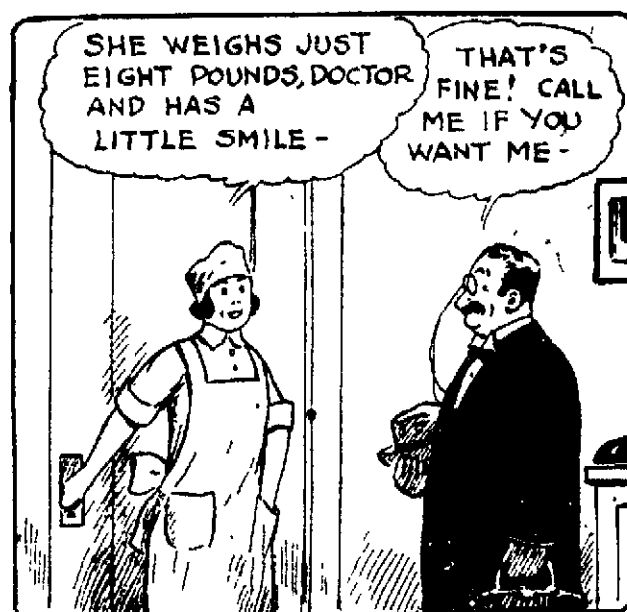

According to the physician fear is expressed that the girl will die should the temperature go down to the normal. The fever is believed to have been caused from a former illness which is causing pressure on the thermal centers of the brain, the report says.

PEOPLE'S FORUM $143.38 SHORT OF MEETING EXPENSE

Carried Forward From Season

The People's Forum, which conducted 15 public gatherings on Sunday evenings in Lawrence Memorial chapel during the fall and winter, failed to meet expenses this year by $143.38, according to the report of F. E. Bachman, forum treasurer. The forum, however, had $211.74 in its treasury when the season opened, left over from last year, and therefore was able to end this season without calling upon the guarantors. The treasury balance now is $68.36.

The average cost of each meeting was approximately $90 and the revenue averaged only $51 per meeting. The average cost of the meetings was very materially reduced because of the failure of two of the speakers to arrive. Their places were taken by Judson G. Rosebush and Dr. D. O. Kinsman who spoke without compensation.

The largest item of expense was for speakers and the next largest item was for music. There was no administration expenses and the cost of advertising was kept as low as possible. Here is Treasurer Bachman's report in detail:

HAIR RAISING CLIMAX THRILLS IN "THE BOND BOY"

There is a hair raising climax in Richard Barthelmess' starring vehicle "The Bond Boy," the first National attraction that is thrilling crowds at the Elite Theatre this week. Trailed by bloodhounds, Joe Newbolt, the young hero, who has escaped from jail after receiving the death sentence of a crime he didn't commit, is rapidly being overtaken when he reaches the home of Ollie Chase, for the death of whose husband he had been arrested. With her lover she tries to deny him and give him up, but she right of his pitiful plight is too much. In her confession Joe is exonerated, at the very moment that the discovery is made that Iorn Chase had taken the farm by trickery. To Joe and his mother is restored the means of happiness and comfort. The incidentally a charming love story is brought to a conclusion that sends away happy everyone who sees it on the screen. Henry King, the director, has guided star and cast, headed by Mary Alden and Mary Thurman, to a success which parallels "Tollable David" in the estimation of the capacity audiences at the Elite.

FOR ALL THE FAMILY

Robert Hughes' latest picture, a superbly made by the Goldwyn Company, should be seen and enjoyed by every member of the family. It is called "Remembrance," and is being presented Wednesday and Thursday at the Majestic theatre. The story deals with just such a family as can be found in any American city—a family that has achieved social and financial success and is branching out with an ambitious flourish. Only the father, "Poor Old Pop," the man who built up a small business into a successful department store remains unspoiled.

Pop is excited to work and pay the bills while the rest of the family have a good time. This is the situation when he collapses under the strain and suffers an illness that threatens his life.

First of all, Rupert Hughes has written a gripping human story, but back of it there is a warning against selfishness and thoughtlessness that cannot well be missed. Pop is a beautifully sympathetic figure. He sacrifices himself uncomplainingly and the mother and children accept everything regardless of cost. No one can

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN
PRESCOTT TO JOSEPH
GRAVES HAMILTON

JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON,
SHARON, PA.

MY DEAR MR. HAMILTON:

By the time you receive this letter, Leslie will have probably told you that I have asked her to be my wife. As you know nothing of me, however, I thought it would be nothing less than honorable to tell you a little about the man to whom you are being asked to give your daughter.

As you probably have guessed from my name, John Alden Prescott, my forebears were of Puritan stock. My father is dead and my mother has enough to keep her comfortably without any help from me. My mother is especially proud of being a direct descendant of John Alden, but that of course means nothing to me; in fact, I have felt that all my life I have been because my mother expected me to live up to the more or less narrow precepts of my ancestors.

I haven't done it. I am just a modern young man who has gone through college with more or less escapades and honors—perhaps more escapades and less honors. However, I have not done anything that I am sure even you would consider unpardonable.

Of course, I cannot expect to keep Leslie in the way in which she now lives, but I am getting $4,000 a year with the Acme Advertising Company, and I have prospects of being raised another thousand shortly, and a good chance of becoming a member of the firm some day.

Leslie tells me that she is sure we can live on a comparatively small salary and I think perhaps she would be willing to make some sacrifices for me; and I know anything that I shall give up will mean nothing to me beside the fact that I shall be privileged to call the sweetest woman in all the world my wife. If you think me not wholly unworthy it will give me the greatest joy; but I must also tell you that with or without your consent, I shall make Leslie Hamilton my wife, because I love her with all my heart and she has told me that she loves me.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT.

LETTER FROM JOSEPH GRAVES
HAMILTON TO JOHN
ALDEN PRESCOTT

MR. JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT,
ALBANY, N. Y.

MY DEAR SIR:

So you want to marry my girl, do you?

Well, I've been expecting this for a long time. I knew some man would have the good taste to pick her out from among the crowd. I was very glad to get your letter, my boy, because Leslie had been singing your praises from the moment I met her at the train, and yet I found that she really knew nothing about you. I asked her what you were going to live on, and she did not know; in fact, with the exception of knowing the name of your advertising company, she knew nothing about your present earnings capacity or your future prospects.

I think she told me that you sent her either violets or orchids every day and that you drove a smashing red roadster, and that you didn't object to a girl using a lipstick in public or smoking an occasional cigarette. I told her, if that were so that you were either more lenient or more of a fool than her own father. I have objected to it strenuously.

I'm afraid you two young people will run up against some snags because from what Leslie has told me about her, you are both extravagant young persons. You both have had money enough to gratify most of your wishes; you neither have had any great responsibilities.

I never was the kind of man, however, that wanted to pick out my daughters' husbands. I ran away with Leslie's mother because the old man thought I was not good enough for her. I lived to see the day he came to me to borrow money. I may as well tell you that I never except to have to ask the husband of either of my daughters for a similar favor.

You two young people will have to live your own lives. You will have to support Leslie and she will have to learn to live on your salary. I like your frankness and your modesty. If Leslie is satisfied with you, it is not for me to cavil. Let us see you soon, my dear John.

Most cordially yours,
JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON

TOMORROW: A letter from Leslie Hamilton to her fiance.

Girls, Grown Up At 14 Now, Writer, Says

BY MARIAN HALE

"A girl used to be considered grown up," says Rachel Crothers, writer, playwright and theatrical producer, "at 18 or 20."

"Now she's mature at 14."

"Unless a mother realizes this, she begins then and there to widen the gap that grows naturally between age and youth."

GONE FOR GOOD

"The sensationally modern young woman who flashed before our vision during the war—the product of freedom, reaction and fatalism—has softened a trifle, and will develop into a more normal, healthy personality."

"But we never shall have a return to the pre-war type."

When I asked her what she considers the most dangerous phase of our 1923 civilization, Miss Crothers answered:

"Physical freedom, modern dress dancing, lack of chaperons, the general letting down of conventions and standards."

"But what grown people won't understand is that, while their juniors of today haven't their parents' standards, they have their own. The up-to-date young man demands from a girl different qualifications from those his father sought, and women naturally are what men make them. The modern man would rather have a companion than a cook. He wants a girl to be sensible, but he wants some ornamental virtues, too. He comprehends a girl's desire to have some career besides home and children. He appreciates her need for intellectual companionship. He has learned that, if she has talent, she should not submerge it in marriage."

"If the golden age ever comes, it will be when every woman is economically independent—when common sense and honesty have supplanted the hypocrisy and ignorance that have raised the barriers which separate fathers and mothers from their children, making a 'problem' out of young people."

GOOD MANNERS

A man pays all fares and fees for a woman he is escorting. But when, by chance, a man meets a woman he knows on the street and they enter, say, a street car together, the former is under no obligation to pay both fares, nor should a woman expect it. Some men do insist on doing so, and in that case the woman should yield gracefully, but the better form is otherwise.

SMART MILLINERY

Helmet-shaped hats of rough straw or milan are closely trimmed with ribbon or feathers tightly wound about the brim, or with some long sweeping feather. The shape is kept very severe.

BLACK NET

Black net trimmed with all-over embroidery by delicate traceries in braid or beads, is used in many ways by the fashionable modiste.

On Road To Boneyard

"I have just finished a treatment of your wonderful remedy and can say it has done wonders for me already. For the past five years I have been unable to eat any but the lightest food and that but sparingly, as any food caused me to bloat with gas. I was reduced to a skeleton of ninety pounds, and was on the road to the boneyard. A friend in Birmingham sent me a bottle of Myer's Wonderful Remedy, which I took, and I am sure it will entirely cure me of my trouble, judging from what it brought from me and the way I feel." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists. adv.

KNITTED COSTUMES

Knitted costumes frequently have borders done in Indian patterns or very precise geometrical figures. Henna, and the shades of tan and beige, seem to be the most popular colors for such frocks.

Like A Knife Thru the Heart

That's how the sharp, shooting pain caused by gas pressure feels to the average sufferer. Many people endure it, thinking the heart is affected, when in reality the stomach is at fault.

To get rid of the pain you must prevent the formation of excessive gas in the stomach and bowels. This may be done quickly and safely by taking Baalmann's Gas Tablets before and after meals.

Baalmann's Gas Tablets are used throughout America for the relief of gas and evils resulting therefrom. They contain no drugs—no harmful drugs of any kind. Anyone can take them. Relief is usually given in a few minutes. Schlitz Bros. carry Baalmann's Gas Tablets in stock. The genuine come in a yellow package—price, one dollar. J. Baalmann, Chemist, San Francisco. adv.

NORMA TALMADGE'S Manners

SOCIAL graces are absolutely essential to social success. Gentility must be both graceful and gracious. Nowhere is gentility put to a more severe test than in the ballroom. It's true that dancers are born and not made, yet with patient practice and intelligent instruction, any able bodied person can become an acceptable dancer, and should.

AT THE DANCE

1: A man asks the first dance of the woman he has escorted, and makes sure that she does not lack partners for later dances.

2: The woman does not seek her partner for any dance number; he comes to her.

3: Any couple who dance together so much as to make themselves conspicuous court criticism.

4: No man should ask a woman to dance with him unless he is sufficiently proficient so that the dance will be a pleasure to her.

5: Men who accept invitations to a dance are duty bound to participate in the dancing, instead of loitering in the smoking room.

MANY WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

Through the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Two Interesting Cases

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Mrs. Edwards Avoids Operation

Wilson, N. C. — "For about a year I was not able to do anything, not even my housework, because of the pains in my sides and the bearing-down pains. I could only lie around the house. The doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, but I tried different medicines which did no good, until my sister insisted on my trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She said there was nothing like it. I know that she was right, for I began to improve with the first bottle and it has done me more good than anything else. I am able now to do anything on the farm or in my home and I recommend it to my friends."

LILLIE EDWARDS, R.F.D. 3, Box 44, Wilson, N. C.

Another Operation Avoided

Akron, Ohio. — "I can never praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done for me. I had such pains and weakness that the doctor told me nothing but an operation would help me. But my mother had taken the Vegetable Compound and she told me what it had done for her, and so I took it and I am glad to tell every one that it made me a strong woman, and I have had two children since then."

Mrs. R. G. Westover, 325 Grant Street, Akron, Ohio.

26 ROUNDS OF BOXING AWAITS MITT FANS TONIGHT

QUINN AND DUFFY WILL MIX IN MAIN EVENT IN ARMORY

Many "Bugs" Expected To In-vade Appleton From Fox River Valley

WINDUP
Jack Duffy, Chicago, 138 pounds, vs. Gunner Joe Quinn, St. Paul, 155 pounds. Ten rounds.
Ed Phillips, Appleton, Wis., vs. Vincent Banton, Milwaukee. Six rounds at 135 pounds.
SECOND PRELIMINARY
Frank Eisch, Appleton, vs. Glenn O'Brien, New London. Six rounds at 160 pounds.
FIRST PRELIMINARY
Phil Zwick, Kaukauna, vs. King Schwabs, Hortonville. Four rounds at 140 pounds.
Time—8:30; Place—Armory G.

Boxing fans of the Fox river valley will focus their attention upon Appleton Wednesday night for the second time this season. The more rabid will wade through the snow clogged arteries leading to the city by rail, electric and gas to get an eyeful of the 26 rounds show all prepared for them by Promoter Elmer Johnston.

The main attraction will be a ten round tilt between Jack Duffy, Chicago middleweight, and Gunner Joe Quinn, the St. Paul scrapper who was a bit of notoriety for himself in Milwaukee by whipping Frankie Fraze several weeks ago.

REAL BATTLE EXPECTED
Duffy, who has been before to battle with Volpin of this city will step in the ring with a host of friends in his corner while a good many of the bugs will take sides with Quinn. Duffy announced that he is in much better shape now and that he will make a fool of Quinn. Appleton fans who saw Quinn in action in Milwaukee hardly think that he will be true and predict that the St. Paul boxer with Messers Gibbons and Collins in his corner will make a push out of the Winner City last. Duffy who is to be given a second chance here Wednesday night will have to unloosen some of the "stuff" he says he has.

One of the prelims the "curtain raiser" between Phil Zwick of Kaukauna and King Schwabs of Hortonville, is expected to draw most "blood" both from the fans and the principals. These lads met before with Zwick winning the four round argument. Schwabs will have a host of Hortonville followers with him while the Electric City is expected to furnish several hundred fight fans. Jack Zwick will be in his brother's corner, Johnston announced.

In the second prelim, Frank Eisch, Appleton, will try to "comeback" in the Appleton boxing circles with a six round engagement with Glenn O'Brien, New London. Both lads are rated heavy and possess hard kicks in their gloves. O'Brien is a south-paw and has some training tips from Fitchie Mitchell of Milwaukee.

A fast battle is expected in the semi-windup when Ed Phillips, Appleton and formerly of Milwaukee will battle with Vincent Banton, Milwaukee. The boys are 135 pounders and are shifty, promising action from start to finish.

WEIGHED IN AT 3
All fighters were weighed in at 3 o'clock in the offices of Dr. D. J. O'Connor in the presence of Victor Manhardt, secretary of the Wisconsin Boxing commission, who made the trip from Milwaukee. Mark Catlin was appointed by the commissioners to represent the state boxing body in Appleton, and it is likely that the attorney will also act as the official announcer.

Otto Towne, Green Bay, will be the third man in the ring while Fred Bushy will clang the gong.

FACTORY LEAGUE IN FINAL TILTS

Real interest is shown by basketball fans in Appleton as the outcome of the postponed games of the Interfactory Basketball league, to be played off Wednesday night and Thursday in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the outcome of which is to decide whether Badger Furnace players are to maintain their present lead.

The Furnace quint will play in the opening game at 7:15 with the Sigma Fraternity team. There is considerable danger for the leaders as the frat has copied one game after another despite its handicap start in taking over the standings of the Interlake team.

The other games will be between the Fox River and the Y. M. C. A. at 8:15. The Fox River team has the best chance of taking the game and its victory may place it in the tie for second place with a bare possibility of going into a tie for first.

At 9:15 the Kimberly Clark outfit will take on the Y. M. C. A. for cellar laurels.

Two other games are to be played Thursday.

SOUTHERN BADGER TOWNS FORM BASEBALL LEAGUE

JANESVILLE—The Southern Wisconsin Baseball league was formed Monday at Janesville. Edgerton, Stoughton, Port Atkinson, Cambridge and Deerfield.

A 16 game schedule will be played, starting May 13. Only home talent players will be used. Frank Sinclair, sports editor of the Janesville Gazette is president; C. F. Beyer, Ft. Atkinson, vice president; P. M. Hallett, Janesville, secretary-treasurer.

APPLETON ACES WIN CLOSE GAME FROM TRACTORS

Paper City Team Wins 24 To 22 In First Home Game Of Season

Fighting one of the closest battles staged this year in the Armory G. Appleton Aces basketball team, pulled the unexpected by beating the U. S. Tractors of Menasha Tuesday night by a score of 24 to 22.

The Tractors were first to score with Madson, star center, rolling in a field goal the first minute of playing. Dunn and Grover the Ace center and forward, shot in baskets and took the lead but the first half ended 12 to 11 in favor of the Tractors.

The second half was even more exciting. Chapelle, the fast forward of the visitors got two field goals and had the Aces trailing 19 to 11 when Grover, Dunn and Basing began a shooting duel with Chapelle, Kuehl and Madson, the score being tied 19 to 19 and 22 to 22. Dunn's basket with but a minute to play gave the Aces the winning score. The Appleton lads used a bit of strategy in the last minute by playing a strictly passing game and without permitting the Tractors to lay hands on the ball.

Madson starred for the visitors and Grover played the best game for the Aces. Other Aces were Ruse, mean forward and Kessler, guard. Bodden and Anderson, Tractor guards, exhibited excellent floorwork.

Manager Leslie Holzer announced that he will take his Aces to Plymouth next Sunday.

The game Tuesday night was good in every respect and deserved bigger support than it received.

RECOMMENDS RYAN AS 'U' GRID COACH

MADISON—Jack Ryan, formerly of Marquette university and Dartmouth college was recommended for the position of head football at the university of Wisconsin during a joint meeting of the athletic council and a board of regents committee Tuesday.

T. E. Jones, athletic director made the recommendation. Although several regents considered the recommendation, they decided to withhold the board's approval until the regular meeting Wednesday.

Ryan was for a number of years coach at Marquette university and then in 1919 went to Dartmouth where he served as assistant coach in charge of backfield men. He is reported to have ability to develop strong teams.

DREXLER-LIETHEN TEAM WHIPS MOREY AND M'COY, 100-79

Upholds Challenge By Taking Pocket Billiard Match In Carr And Hansen Room

BY CUE STICK
L. Drexler and H. Liethen defeated M. Morey and D. McCoy in the opening of the Valley Pocket Billiard tournament in the Carr and Hansen Billiard room Tuesday night. The score was 100 to 79.

The first frame ended 11 for Drexler and Liethen and 3 for Morey and McCoy. Morey then retaliated with a run of 18, high run for the match, and the score stood a tie, 21 to 21 at the end of the third frame.

After turning the half way point of the game the score stood 51 for Morey and McCoy and 47 for Drexler and Liethen. Here the game saw a standstill, standing 67 for Morey and McCoy and 57 for Drexler and Liethen, when Drexler opened up with a run of 18, the game, before the final frame, at 95 for Drexler and McCoy reversing the lead. McCoy then made a good break shot and opened the balls for a possible run but scratched on a good end shot, leaving an opening for Drexler who followed. Drexler then ran 11 overcoming six scratches and the final score after deducting 9 scratches for Morey and McCoy stood 100 to 79.

MATCH NEXT TUESDAY
It was one of the closest and hardest played games of this winter's series, featured by close and safe play, high runs of 18 by Morey and runs of 16, 11, and 10 twice by Drexler. Liethen was compelled to play safe and was in turn played safe by Morey. McCoy also played a good game but was handicapped like Liethen by safety and breaks of the game.

The next match will be between Drexler and Liethen and A. LaFond and A. Selig, Tuesday March 13, at 8:30 in the evening.

PLAY CLOSE GAME
New York—By steady work under close supervision and instruction of Jimmy de Forest, who trained Jack Dempsey for the Willard fight, Luis Angelo Firpo, the Argentinian heavyweight has made amazing improvement in his boxing. Firpo's fight with Bill Brennan is only eight days distant and he is slogging away with the swiftest and most durable sparring partners that can be found for him. Unlike most heavyweights who specialize on causticities and the mauling of the meat bag, Firpo prefers to box with the big gloves and he will go from six to ten rounds every afternoon next week with the exception of Saturday when he will fight fifteen rounds with two or three partners in order to test himself over the distance.

Carlos Scaglia, the Argentinian light heavyweight, and Buddy Jackson, the negro heavyweight, have been Firpo's partners in most of his workouts thus far. He hopes to lure the Jamaica Kid into the gym next week.

When Firpo landed from the boat after his voyage from Buenos Aires, he was very clumsy in his boxing. During the last few days, however, he has developed almost incredibly in boxing science. He is still without much of a defense unless his attack is the best defense, but Brennan, who is not a finisher, is not conceded more than an outside chance to stop him. Firpo has shown when floored in other fights that he can take a knockdown and come back without appearing to notice it.

CLEVELAND—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion has been offered a guarantee of $100,000 or the privilege of 27½ per cent of the gate receipts to meet Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul, in a 12 round bout July 4 or Labor day.

Sheboygan High School In Third Place When Two Games Are Forfeited
Appleton high school basketball team automatically became champion of the Fox River Valley High Schools Athletic conference as the result of the decision handed down of officially Tuesday by the Intercollegiate Athletic association, declaring "Test-wuide, a Sheboygan player ineligible since Feb. 1 and its games with Oshkosh and Manitowoc after that date forfeited."

Harold "Pete" Briese, Appleton, whose eligibility was questioned by Oshkosh officials, due to the impression that the Appleton guard had played four years in the caging department, was declared eligible by the board of control made up of P. F. Neversman, Marinette; F. O. Holt, Edgerton and V. G. Barnes, Madison. As the result of the decision the revised conference standings are as follows:
